

After 3-year-old boy murdered in IRA bomb-blast, we say:

HANG CHILD

MURDERERS!

THE DEAD, dying and maimed victims of the IRA's Mother's Day bomb lie in the gutter. The bomb in Warrington's shopping centre was clearly intended to kill women and children.

LAST MONTH'S Mother's Day bomb outrage by the IRA was the tragic but all too predictable result of the Tory Government's weakness on law and order in general and terrorism in particular. The explosion came only a month after John Major gave his blessing to a march through Central London by IRA sympathisers. On that occasion Major even ordered the arrest of nearly four hundred (mainly BNP) counter-demonstrators so that the march could go ahead. What clearer signal could there be of the Government's contempt for the victims of IRA terrorism? If the British National Party was in power, the IRA would be wiped out within 24 hours — the SAS and security forces would be allowed to do the job.

MURDERED: 3-year-old Jonathan Ball was callously killed by the IRA on Mother's Day weekend

MURDERED: 12-year-old Tim Parry died later in hospital

Just one day is all it would take for our security forces to 'take out' known terrorist ringleaders, and get rid of the evil parasites who have brought misery to Ulster folk for over twenty years. The IRA's cowardly bleating about a 'shoot-to-kill' policy by the security forces cuts no ice with us — this is precisely the policy which the terrorists THEMSELVES have lived by since they began their murderous campaign.

Ulster is proud to be British, and will never surrender to the IRA — even if cowardly Tories on the mainland try to stab them in the back with the so-called 'Anglo-Irish Agreement.' We expect the Bolshevik dregs of Labour to support this kind of anti-British treachery, but it is doubly hypocritical for the Tories to do so, while at the same time claiming to be the 'party of patriotism'.

Terrorists are of course not the only sick monsters who kill kids for kicks.

There are plenty of evil sex perverts around who are fully aware that if they rape or murder children, the law will merely give them the equivalent of a 'slap on the wrist' from a liberal judge, followed by a short stay in a holiday-camp open prison.

If the pervert's attacks on children are particularly horrific, he may receive the ultimate punishment — 'counselling' from a left-wing social worker.

Perhaps, while John Major is still dishing out his famous 'charters' like confetti, he ought to introduce a Victim's Charter — for the victims of the crime epidemic which his Government has created.

Until we bring back the rope, our children will continue to be at risk from terrorists, sex-perverts, and other products of Major's "society at ease with itself."

The one ray of hope is that more and more people in Britain are coming to realise that the British National Party is the only party of law and order, because only the BNP has the courage to advocate the restoration of the death penalty for child-murderers.

If the hangman's noose was available to deter the cowardly killers of children, perhaps Jonathan Ball and Tim Parry would be alive today.

Scottish BNP disrupts IRA rally in Edinburgh

SCOTTISH BNP activists joined Ulster Loyalists to disrupt an IRA meeting in Edinburgh, and then distributed scores of papers and leaflets outside

THE BNP in Scotland has a proud history of opposition to the IRA and defence of our British kinfolk in Ulster.

It was therefore inevitable that when the patriots learned of a planned meeting by IRA-supporters in Edinburgh's City Chambers, they quickly organised a counter-demonstration, drawn mainly from the Glasgow and Edinburgh units.

On the day of the meeting, 14th March, over fifty BNP patriots and Ulster Loyalists gathered outside the Chambers, where Sinn Fein's Michael McMullen was due to address a motley bunch of left-wing dross.

While the Loyalists created a diversion, the BNP men cleverly evaded the police guards and stormed into the Chambers. The IRA trash fled in terror as the BNP invaded the meeting brandishing 'Hang IRA Murderers' posters and singing 'Rule Britannia'.

After disrupting the meeting, the BNP rejoined their Loyalist comrades outside and sold dozens of copies of British Nationalist. Scores of 'Join Us' leaflets were also handed out.

Although the media blacked out mention of the BNP's part in the action, the IRA were left in no doubt that they are not welcome in Scotland.

A QUESTION OF PRIORITIES

Law and order are collapsing everywhere in Britain.

British people can no longer regard themselves as safe anywhere, either in their property or their persons.

A tidal wave of crime is hitting this country the like of which has never been seen in history. Robbery with violence, violence for its own sake, rape and murder, carried out without regard for the age or sex of the victims, have now become a daily routine.

The violence is now starting to reach a level almost worthy of a land in a state of civil war; yet not so many years ago Britain was the envy of the world for its orderliness and security.

This being so, it might have been thought that everyone except a few criminals, misfits and traitors, who in one way or another stood to gain from the country's problems, would have welcomed nationalism, and its political representative in this country, the BNP.

It is true of course that the appalling state of law and order has indeed helped to make many British folk into voters, supporters and members of the Party.

Such people have recognised that amongst all of Britain's political parties only the BNP, once in authority, is going to treat the rapist, the mugger, the child murderer and the terrorist as what they are — enemies of society fit only to be wiped out. Just for starters they can see that none of the others is ever going to make the punishment fit the crime by bringing back the rope for the type of scum who murder little children, or like the IRA who plant bombs in public places so as to kill wholly innocent folk.

And what of those whose job it is to uphold law and order; surely the police should favour the rise of nationalism?

It is certainly true that many ordinary police officers, as decent British men and women, do have pro-nationalist sympathies.

But sadly, many of their superiors are afflicted with the cancer of liberal intellectualism, by which they are more concerned with the 'rights' of the criminal than with the rights of the victim.

Recently, we saw the Chief Constable of Nottinghamshire, whose county has one of the highest crime rates and lowest detection rates in the country, pontificating on television about the evils of BNP 'racism'. The new Metropolitan Commissioner is equally 'politically correct' on issues such as race.

These crusading 'anti-racists' have in many cases instructed their officers to harass BNP supporters going about their lawful political activities. Whenever the BNP holds a march or rally, the full paraphernalia of the totalitarian state is unleashed: Video cameras, helicopters, undercover spies and provocateurs, recording of car-number plates, etc.

This overkill is supposedly to 'prevent violence', but in reality is to intimidate, criminalise and victimise those dissidents who oppose the Government's 'brave new world' of multi-racialism.

These 'politically correct' officers should take a long hard look at the system they are propping up. The culture of greed, violence, philistinism, pornography, moral and racial degeneration that this Government represents will sooner or later blow up in their faces.

Who controls British television?

THE EXCLUSIVE CLIQUE BEHIND POWERFUL PROPAGANDA TOOL

ALAN YENTOB is looking very pleased with himself these days. Last month he became Controller not only of BBC2, but of BBC1 as well.

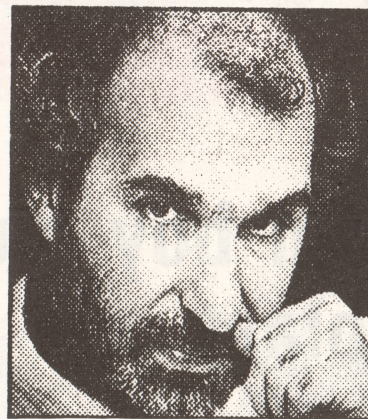

Some biographical details may be of interest to BN readers, and for these we are indebted to the Independent (09.03.93):

'Alan is proud of his immigrant background — Sephardic Jews, from Iraq. Phillipa Walker has lived with Alan for 12 years. She is tall, thin, blonde. (Yentob's

Grade, whose real name — Wingradski — gives the clue as to his origins far from these shores.

And finally, as News at Ten's ethnic presenter would say, the owner of the forthcoming Channel 5 is the exotically-named Moses Znaimer, a pony-tailed 49-year old who hails from Canada, but whose ancestry is certainly not Anglo-European.

It seems all of our TV channels are now well and truly 'sewn up.'

'A big nose is a real advantage in life.'

son) Jacob has blond curls, blue eyes, small nose, milky white skin. Alan hasn't. 'I'll probably have to give him nose surgery when he gets older, unless his nose grows with age. After all, a big nose is a real advantage in life.'

Well, we certainly can't argue with that!

Of course, if we don't like the revolting political propaganda and pornography Yentob is dishing out from both channels of the BBC, we can always switch over to ITV.

But the most powerful man on this

MEET Moses Znaimer, the pony-tailed owner of Canada's Channel 5 station, which will soon be broadcasting in Britain channel is one Mr Michael Green. According to the Daily Telegraph (02.12.92), the television regulatory authorities at first were not impressed with Green:

'He felt they regarded him as a little Jewish spiv who couldn't be trusted with a TV company.'

But that was some time ago. Thanks to the power of money (Green's company Carlton Communications is worth £1.4 billion), Green is now the most powerful man in the ITV network. For many years, after leaving school, Green played a weekly game of poker with friends Charles Saatchi and Gerald Ratner.

Another chum of Green's is Michael Grade, Chief Executive of Channel 4. Grade's father was Sir Lew

A LORRA LORRA QUEERS! Angry poofs invade 'Blind Date' show

CILLA BLACK'S 'Blind Date' show was invaded last month — by a gang of queers!

The queer and lesbian lonely hearts gatecrashed the ITV show which was being filmed at Brighton, in response to what they say is 'discrimination' against them.

The programme has in the past pushed such 'Politically Correct' issues, as race-mixing, but has so far stopped short of allowing homos to 'perform' for the cameras (thank goodness!).

Sadly for the frustrated faggots, London Weekend Television refused to relent, and the perverts eventually shuffled off in a huff.

Perhaps Cilla should advise the lonely queers to join an 'ANAL' demo — they would have far more chance of meeting someone with similar interests!

CRICKET SCRUFFS SHAME ENGLAND

ENGLAND'S 3-0 Test disaster in India last month may have come as a shock to the cricket authorities, but was sadly all too predictable to anyone observing the team's demeanor off the pitch.

One British newspaper described the England team as "Beer-swilling, scruffy and unshaven — an unsightly rabble of jumble-sale refugees."

Gone are the neatly pressed trousers and smart blazers of former years. England team-members now prefer slouching about in jeans, grubby trainers and beer-stained T-shirts.

TODAY'S England team: Beer-swilling, unshaven slobs

As bad as their scruffy dress-sense was the lack of nationalist spirit among the team. Instead of being thrilled and proud to be given the opportunity to represent their country, the players spent the tour moaning about the heat, the food and the umpiring.

Invited to an audience with Mother Teresa of Calcutta, only half bothered to turn up. In a further insult to their Indian hosts, not one of the team turned up to the Indian Cricket Club Dinner to celebrate 60 years of Test cricket.

OAFISH BEHAVIOUR

The oafish behaviour of the England team (and for that matter of many young British people in general when on holiday overseas) is a sad reflection of the declining standards of behaviour and morality in Britain.

It is in fact the behaviour of a people who feel defeated and crushed by the decline of their country.

But it is an attitude which the British National Party is seeking to reverse. Instead of a passive acceptance of defeat, BNP supporters show defiance towards the corrupt Old Gang of Establishment politicians who are wrecking our country.

SMARTNESS

Instead of impotently moaning about Britain's troubles, BNP supporters are actively fighting back, by giving their precious free-time and financial resources to the struggle for our country's salvation.

The BNP's insistence on smartness and discipline is, in this context, not designed simply to achieve bourgeois 'respectability', but rather to generate pride and self-respect among activists, as well as pride in our country.

Winning back our own self-respect is the first step towards Britain regaining the respect of other nations.

CRICKETERS of the 1950s were smarter than those of today — and it showed in the quality of their game

AIDS-infected Ugandan midwife hired by NHS

A YOUNG British mother is terrified that she and her new-born baby may have contracted AIDS after discovering that the Ugandan midwife who delivered her baby later died from the disease.

Joanne Clark, 29, went in to Farnborough Hospital in Kent to have her baby delivered, because she thought it would be safer than giving birth at home.

Little did she know that the Hospital had hired a Ugandan woman, Dorothy Ecookit, as a midwife. Ecookit was an AIDS carrier, and died last month.

SIX-MONTH WAIT

Now Joanne will have to go through the agony of a six-month wait to find out if she has contracted the virus.

The hospital at first refused to tell Joanne which midwife had delivered her baby, but later admitted the truth and set up a help-line for other women who may have had contact with the AIDS-infected midwife.

So far, the line has received over two thousand calls.

Dorothy Ecookit pitched up in Britain in 1988, bringing four children and her sister. She had no problems entering the country, despite the fact that it is widely known that over 30 per cent of Ugandans are infected with the HIV virus.

SCANDAL

The case has highlighted the scandal of the NHS hiring third-world immigrants as nurses or even doctors.

SCANDAL: AIDS-infected Ugandan Dorothy Ecookit was hired by the NHS

Many of the immigrants have no qualifications, or use bogus certificates to trick their way into lucrative medical posts.

Native British health workers are furious that the Government is secretly encouraging NHS hospitals to hire immigrants to boost 'positive discrimination' figures — at a time when many British nurses face redundancy through NHS cutbacks.

The real loser is of course the British public. Our lives are being put at risk through the stupidity and hypocrisy of the Tory Government.

Because of the Government's insistence that AIDS is a 'universal' disease, having nothing to do with race or homosexuality, the National Health Service is failing to test high-risk members of staff (i.e. foreigners and queers) in case it is branded not 'politically correct'.

It is patently obvious that if Uganda, Nigeria, and other African countries are suffering an AIDS epidemic a substantial number from the hundreds of thousands pouring into Britain are bound to be carriers of the disease.

Why is NHS still hiring third world 'doctors'?

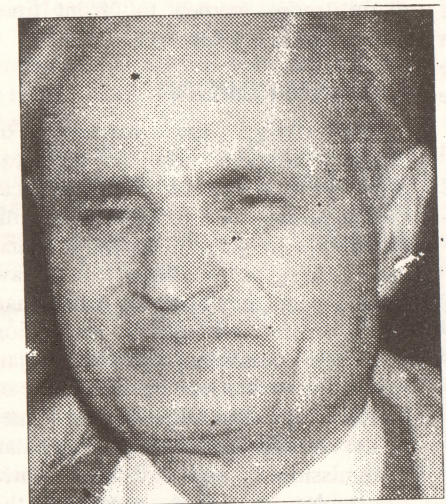

WHEN Asian and third world doctors first began swarming into Britain's National Health Service around thirty years ago, the excuse given by the Government was that there was a 'shortage' of British doctors.

That excuse was weak even thirty years ago, but today, with four million on the dole it is completely untenable, especially when many of those pouring into Britain have inferior or even bogus qualifications.

Muhammed Saeed entered Britain in 1961, having assumed the identity and qualifications of another man.

FALSE QUALIFICATIONS

A false duplicate copy of a degree enabled him to become a general practitioner in Bradford, where he defrauded the health authority for thirty years, drawing almost half a million pounds in salary.

Jailed: Dr Churlam Salim

The bogus doctor's prescriptions were so weird that the local chemist kept photocopies of them because he found it difficult to believe their content.

Saeed advised a patient to drink a spoonful of medicated shampoo three times each day. Another was told to rub cough medicine into his skin. He even advised a woman with sore throat to drink highly corrosive creosote. One unlucky patient was told to take urine-stimulant tablets just before bedtime!

Sentencing Saeed to five years in prison, Judge Geoffrey Baker, QC, said: "It was a deceit cunningly conceived, skilfully executed and brazenly managed over three decades.

CRIMINAL RECKLESSNESS

Meanwhile, two Asian surgeons have been jailed for killing a patient by prescribing tranquillisers in doses far in excess of safety limits.

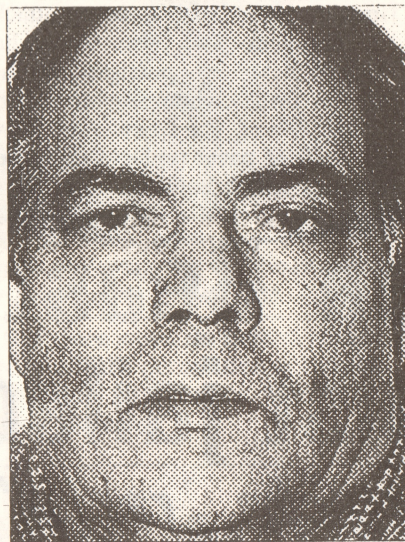

Dr Dharendra Saha was sentenced to 21 months and Dr Churlam Salim to 12 months in jail for the manslaughter of Graham Rawlinson, 23.

Judge Richard Curtis told them: "You each behaved with criminal recklessness totally unbefitting of the medical profession."

The two doctors had prescribed for Mr Rawlinson 80mg of Valium, which has a maximum safe dose of 30mg, and 160mg of Temazapan, which has a maximum safe dose of 60mg.

Both men were working as GPs in Grimsby, where the local community were shocked to discover the level of their incompetence.

The time has come for the Government to put the interests of patients before 'political correctness'.

Muhammed Saeed was sentenced to five years for impersonating a doctor. He arrived in Britain with bogus medical certificates, and earned £500,000 from the NHS while putting British lives at risk

Dr Dharendra Saha received a 21-month jail sentence for "criminal recklessness totally unbefitting of the medical profession" following the death of a British patient

GERMANY'S JOY AT REPUBLICAN VICTORY

Report by John Morse

In a dramatic new upsurge of popular feeling against the pro-immigrant, pro-EC politicians of Bonn and the corrupt regime that they run, Germany's largest nationalist party, the Republicans ('Reps') made big gains in last month's regional elections in the federal state of Hesse.

The Party took a startling eight per cent of the poll across the state, amounting to a quarter of a million votes. This included an overall ten per cent in the city of Frankfurt, where the Republicans won ten council seats.

ALIEN INVADERS

The vote comes at the height of the German people's 'intifada' against immigration. Thousands of ordinary townspeople, led by militant nationalist groups, have recently taken to the streets to repel millions of alien invaders. The aliens have been dumped in Germany to create a pool of cheap labour, and have brought unheard-of levels of crime and disease to Germany's hitherto clean and orderly residential areas. Worse, they have been given instant housing, employment and social security at the expense of native Germans.

The support for the Republicans is also partly the result of widespread disgust with the corruption of 'System politics' in the Bonn Republic, which many compare to the infamous Weimar Republic of the 1920s.

Like John Major's government in Britain, Chancellor Helmut Kohl has insisted on ratifying the hated Maastricht treaty in the face of overwhelming opposition from the public.

FRANTZ Schönhuber's Republicans are renewing German patriotism

Perhaps above all, Germans are sick of the arrogant rantings of the country's Jewish leader Ignatz Bubis, who behaves as if he is the real chancellor of Germany.

It is a tribute to the common sense of Germans that they have defied the threats of Bubis and his Mossad backers, and the crude pro-immigrant propaganda dished out by the controlled media.

SYSTEM POLITICIANS

The reaction of the System politicians is of course true to form. Helmut Kohl has ordered his state security service to bug the phones of Republican supporters, and a 'dirty tricks' campaign was in evidence throughout the election period.

The excellent result for the Republicans bodes well for next year's General Election in Germany. Watch this space for further news!

LE PEN'S VOTE HOLDS FIRM IN FRENCH POLL

THE FRENCH Front National made a very creditable showing in France's general election last month, polling just under 13 per cent in the first round. Leader Jean-Marie Le Pen (above) said he was "highly satisfied" with the result. The Establishment press had claimed that the FN's vote would be squeezed to less than five per cent by the massive swing to the centre-right parties. As usual, they were proved wrong.

For over ten years, the Establishment parties in France have dismissed the FN vote as a 'passing phase' with no staying power, but they have been proved wrong time and again, as the party has consistently polled over ten per cent in elections.

Under a democratic system of proportional representation, the vote won by the FN would have given the Party over 80 seats in the French assembly — but as it is, the nationalists will probably be left with none, thanks to the Establishment parties' crooked system of awarding seats.

Maastricht swindle

JACQUES DELORS (above) must be laughing all the way to his Swiss bank after last month's Tory swindle on the Maastricht Treaty.

Despite Parliament's rejection of the Social Chapter clause of the Treaty, the Tories have mysteriously 'discovered' a legal loophole which says Britain cannot withdraw from it. Doesn't it make you proud to live in a 'democracy'..?

The racial attacks that t

ONE PARTICULAR 'problem' that the Government never stops ramming down our throats is that of so-called 'racial attacks'. But the phrase as used in Establishment circles refers quite specifically to assaults by whites upon non-whites. Yet such attacks are far outnumbered by those suffered by the native white community — the muggings, rapes, robberies and other assaults which are usually dismissed as ordinary 'street-crime' with no 'racial' motive. The examples listed on these pages give the lie to that explanation. In many cases, the police or the criminals themselves have admitted that the motivation for the crime was a racial one. In other words, the victim of the assault in question was chosen specifically because of their race.

Of course, the majority of the cases we show here have not had the kind of national publicity and media hysteria devoted to assaults by whites against blacks — but then, there is far less political mileage to be squeezed out of such incidents if you happen to be a 'System' politician. The majority of racial attacks or crimes against whites lie buried among the pages of local newspapers. Even there, the race of the attacker is often not mentioned, because of the largely unpublicised Press Council ban on the reporting of the racial make-up of criminals.

WEST INDIAN 'SADIST' IN EVIL RACE ATTACK

Tells victims: 'I hate all white people'

A WEST INDIAN has been jailed for nine years after torturing five women and two men — because they were WHITE!

The Old Bailey heard how 19-year-old sadist Joseph Archibald told his victims: "I hate all white people."

Archibald and his henchman Terence Leach, 24, burst into a flat occupied by a group of white students while they were asleep, overpowered them and tied them up.

TORTURE ORDEAL

The terrified young people were then subjected to a six-hour torture ordeal.

Archibald slashed them with a knife, broken bottle and scissors. He then lashed some of the victims with a leather belt until they bled, and burned them with lighted cigarettes.

During the attack, the burly West Indian screamed: "I hate white people and I am crazy."

One of the girls, aged 23, had her nose broken by Archibald and her 21-year-old sister needed three layers of stitches after he ground a broken bottle into her arm.

Other victims had their hair torn out by the roots. At one stage, after cutting a terrified woman with a knife he licked the blade and told her: "I like to drink the blood."

EVIL TORTURER Joseph Archibald

Sentencing Archibald to nine years imprisonment, Recorder Geoffrey Rivlin told him: "You were quite unmoved by their screams for help. There are disturbing indications that you derived some satisfaction and pleasure from what you were doing."

Archibald, of White City Estate, Shepherds Bush, London, had pleaded guilty to false imprisonment and wounding.

VICIOUS ATTACK

Readers can readily imagine the outcry of liberal anger and media breast-beating if this had been a case of a 'white racist' targeting a group of immigrants for such a vicious attack.

The controlled press would have had a field day pointing out how vicious British white people could be.

As it was, the story rated barely a couple of paragraphs in those newspapers which bothered to cover it.

'Battersea Beast' serial rapist jailed

Were his sex attacks 'racist'?

RAPIST Edward Bartley, who attacked at least five British women was known as the 'Beast of Battersea' for the appalling brutality of his attacks.

With remission, Bartley will probably serve less than ten years — but his victims face a life-sentence of anguish.

Bartley's three and a half year reign of terror began in July 1987, when he raped a 22-year-old secretary at knife-point. In March 1989, he raped an 18-year-old receptionist in her car. In September 1990 he trapped a 25-year-old computer operator in a block of flats and raped her.

VICIOUS ATTACK

Two days after Christmas of the same year, Bartley viciously buggered a 24-year-old secretary in Battersea Park.

Finally, in February 1991, he attacked a 21-year-old Swedish student, who bravely fought back and grabbed his knife. Bartley ran off as she screamed.

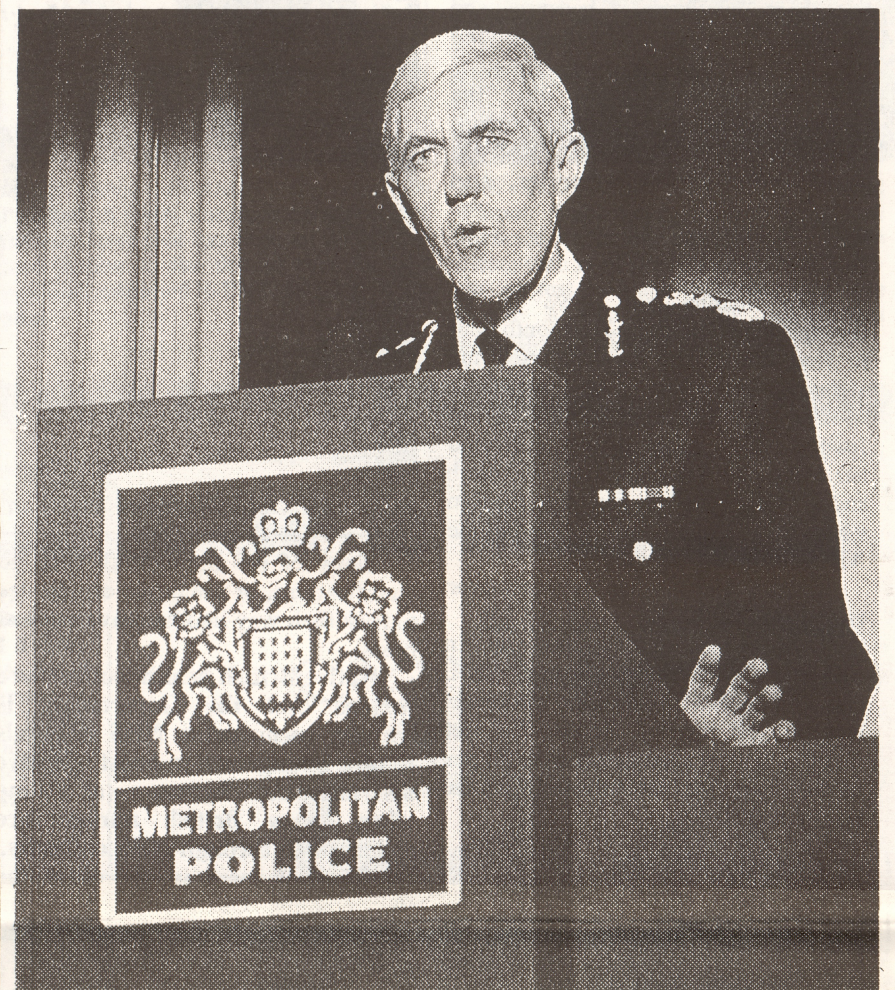

The evil rapist wore a ski mask during the attacks, but was eventually caught by DNA testing. Despite the DNA evidence proving the chances of the rapist being someone else were 860 million to one, Bartley insisted on pleading not guilty, thus forcing his victims to go through the further ordeal of giving evidence in court.

RAPIST Edward Bartley will soon be free to rape again, thanks to the 'soft-sentencing' policy of the Tories. Why was he ever allowed in Britain?

Judge Richard Lowry commented on Bartley's arrogant belief that he would not be caught: "Everyone who has heard this case is appalled at the torment which each woman suffered at your hands and the misery and degradation which you inflicted."

New Metropolitan Commissioner jumps on 'anti-racist' bandwagon

COMMISSIONER Paul Condon spouting 'anti-racist' nonsense

LONDON has gained a new Metropolitan Police Commissioner — but it seems certain that he will be as ineffective at fighting crime as was his predecessor, Sir Peter Imbert.

Imbert was so busy fighting 'racism' in London that he found nowhere near enough time to what should have been his main job: Fighting the devastating crimewave afflicting the Capital. Indeed, to ram home his 'liberal' credentials, Imbert even allowed his daughter to marry a black man.

The new man at the top, Paul Condon, appears to be cast from the same mould.

'EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES'

Condon's first official engagement upon becoming the new Commissioner was an 'equal opportunities' conference at Hendon, where he told delegates that the police must be "totally intolerant" of 'racism'.

"We cannot allow it to take more than a toe-hold it already has in this country and I think we in the police service have a role to play in this. This is an area where we must be totally intolerant of racially motivated attacks; intolerant of those who indulge in racial abuse and intolerant of those who use hatred and violence as the tools of their political expression."

Of course, there is just a small chance that Mr Condon was referring to the great majority of racial attacks, which are attacks against whites; but somehow, this seems unlikely. It is almost certain that his remarks refer to the relatively tiny number of such attacks against non-whites. These are the attacks which, because of their rarity, and because of their political value to the Establishment, are the ones which generally make the biggest headlines.

'Positive discrimination' by the police towards ethnic minorities is already completely discredited in the United States of America, where the policy was first introduced — the Los Angeles riots saw to that. The 'softly softly' tactics do not impress the ethnic communities, who regard such policies merely as a sign of weakness. Brixton, Moss Side and Handsworth were all areas where the police attempted to ingratiate themselves with the immigrant communities, which culminated in savage race-rioting.

PATRIOTIC MAJORITY

Condon's comments contain a thinly coded message to the BNP and the patriotic majority in Britain: The police 'top brass' are determined to carry out the instructions of their political masters in Westminster, by continuing to harass and criminalise the perfectly lawful political activities of the BNP — as demonstrated during the recent anti-IRA demonstration in London.

Mr Condon's speech also touched on another favourite left-wing hobby-horse: 'Women's rights'. Despite recent cases of savage attacks against women police officers, the new Commissioner says he is determined recruit more women to 'front line' duties within the force.

LAW AND ORDER

Thankfully, the majority of ordinary coppers, who do the real police work as opposed to the political speech-making, are in agreement with the BNP's tough policies on law and order. Being at the sharp-end of law enforcement, they know far better than the 'top brass' that only the restoration of capital punishment and tougher jail sentencing will reduce the tidal wave of murder, rape, and other violent crime.

It is time that the Metropolitan Commissioner, and left-wing Chief Constables in other parts of the country, gave up their trendy political posturing and applied themselves to their real task: Crime prevention.

UGLY RACE-HATE ATTACK ON BEDFORD SCHOOLKIDS

THREE white sixth-form pupils of Bedford Modern School have been violently assaulted in what local police called "an unprovoked racial attack."

The attack occurred as the three teenagers waited with their girlfriends for a lift home after a night out in Bedford. A gang of seven West Indians approached them, screamed racial abuse at the girls and brutally attacked the boys.

BATTERED UNCONSCIOUS

One of the sixth-formers was battered unconscious, and was later unable to remember anything of the attack.

The two other boys were bruised and battered in the attack.

All the young victims were severely traumatised by their ordeal, particularly the girls, who feared they were about to be raped.

They DON'T tell you about

12-YEAR-OLD RAPED BY BLACK GANG

LAST MONTH we revealed how Britain is suffering an epidemic of Bosnian-style 'ethnic rape', where white victims are being targeted apparently on the grounds of race.

A particularly sickening example which came to light last month involved a brutal attack on a twelve-year-old Birmingham girl who was attacked by a five-man black rape-gang in a subway only half a mile from her home. Many local whites are convinced that there was a racial motive behind the attack.

RAPED

The girl was returning from shops when the gang pounced. One raped the girl while the rest held her down and cheered him on.

They threatened to kill her if she told the police.

The girl is now seven months pregnant. She was too ashamed to tell anyone about her ordeal until she collapsed at school. Because the pregnancy is at such a late stage, she cannot legally have an abortion, and so will therefore have to go through the additional anguish of giving birth to a mixed race baby which she does not want. The girl is now staying at Birmingham Maternity Hospital.

Police are seeking five black youths aged between 16 and 20 from the Aston and Perry Barr areas of Birmingham.

WHITE SHOP ASSISTANT IN RACE-ATTACK HORROR

STAFF at a W.H.Smith shop in Slough, Berkshire, have been banned from wearing their uniforms in the street after an Asian gang brutally attacked a 61-year-old white woman assistant.

The vicious assault was apparently motivated by muslim anger over the sale of a book by Asian writer Salman Rushdie.

The race-hate gang dragged the terrified white woman off her bike and tried to tear off her uniform, while screaming obscene racial abuse.

ASIAN GANG

Meanwhile, in a separate incident, a white Birmingham boy's 12th birthday was ruined when he suffered a racial attack at the hands of a gang of Asians.

The thugs attacked him as he played football in Aston Park. They rifled his pockets and stole a pound coin, given to him as a birthday present by his grandmother.

WHITE WOMAN ATTACKED

In Enfield, a white woman was treated to a torrent of racial abuse and was then attacked by three black youths, while she was walking her dog along Glebe Avenue.

The woman fell to the ground and hit her head against a wall during the attack, and was rushed to Chase Farm Hospital with head injuries.

MURDERED FOR A LEATHER JACKET WORTH JUST £50

THIS MONTH is the first anniversary of the brutal race-murder of Paul Carter, a young white man who was attacked by a 20-strong gang of Asians and West Indians in Walsall, West Midlands.

Paul was knifed more than ten times as he walked to a Walsall pub with friend Jim Walker. The 24-year-old father of two children had bravely refused to hand over his leather jacket to the thugs, whereupon both men were repeatedly stabbed, with the result that Paul bled to death and Jim was seriously injured.

MURDERED IN COLD BLOOD

At the time of the attack, Detective Superintendent Brian Davies commented: "The degree of violence was terrible. The number of wounds is so great we have no doubt the people involved intended to kill both men. For the sake of a jacket worth less than VICTIM Paul Carter was murdered a year ago this month by an immigrant gang. The BNP was the only party to march in protest.

£50, we have a man murdered in cold blood and his friend almost killed."

The vicious race-killing led to a major protest about immigration among the British people of Walsall, with the British National Party staging a 'Rights for Whites' march through the area in solidarity with local folk. Walsall now has one of the most active BNP units in the country.

IMMIGRANT GANGS

Despite a series of vicious racial attacks since last year's murder, the local Establishment politicians have refused to accept that whites are being victimised by immigrant gangs. Local folk, however, say they feel a lot safer since the BNP set up a unit in Walsall — indeed, the setting up of the new unit is regarded as the only good thing to have emerged as a result of the outrage.

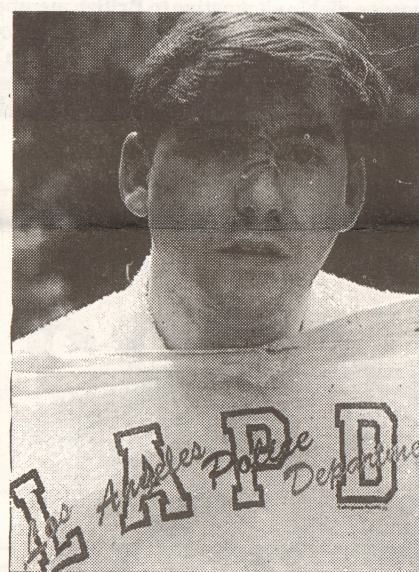

Local British National Party activists say that they are determined Paul Carter's death will not be in vain, and as a result of their anger over the crime last year, they are now closely monitoring racial attacks against whites as part of their commitment to the BNP's 'Rights for Whites' campaign.

During a recent BNP activity in the town, a local white housewife commented: "It's about time we had someone who sticks up for us instead of the immigrants all the time. Our people are being attacked time and time again, but the old parties ignore us — only the BNP has had the guts to protest about it."

Coventry man beaten up 'for wearing T-shirt'

NEWLY-FORMED Coventry BNP has pledged to defend white victims of racial attacks after a spate of assaults by immigrant gangs.

One of the most terrifying examples occurred shortly after the Los Angeles race riots, when white car worker David Stacey was set upon by an Asian gang — for wearing a Los Angeles Police T-shirt. The six attackers told 27-year-old David: "I suppose you think you're hard with that T-shirt on." They then knocked him to the ground and kicked him as they tried to tear the shirt off his back.

VICTIM David Stacey was savagely beaten by immigrant race-hate gang for wearing LA Police Dept T-shirt

But since when do British people have to ask the permission of foreign immigrants to wear a particular piece of clothing?

SAVAGE ATTACK

The savage attack left him with a fractured rib and severe bruising.

After the beating, the thugs took his wallet, containing £120. But David is convinced that he was the victim of a race attack, rather than a simple mugging: "That was not their motive — they wanted to hurt me," he said.

A police spokesman said: "It was a severe beating meted out for wearing the wrong T-shirt."

WHITE FOLK NOW UNDER SIEGE IN HALIFAX RACE-WAR HELL

SOME weeks ago, we reported on the appalling number of racial attacks being suffered by whites in Halifax. Since then, the attacks have become even more ferocious, and local whites feel the police are not treating the problem seriously.

Recently, a white pensioner needed stitches to his forehead after a savage racial attack by an Asian in People's Park, Halifax. The 69-year-old man was ordered out of the park by the Asian youth, and as he did so, was viciously pelted with a stone.

SEX ATTACK

Barmaids at the Crown and Anchor pub now have to be ferried to work by taxi after being targeted by Asian sex attackers. A 24-year-old woman was recently indecently assaulted by a gang of Asian men in the Hopwood Lane area of the town. Calder magistrates were recently told how a white couple innocently walking down Gibbet Street, Halifax, were subjected to a revolting barrage of racial abuse an Asian gang.

Basharat Ali Hussain, 18, of Cromwel Street, Halifax was bound over for six months for his part in the attack. Mr Nigel Cowgill, prosecuting, said: "A white couple were walking down Gibbet Street when a group of Asians started taunting them and making racial comments."

Local whites were disgusted with the pathetic 'punishment' dished out for this terrifying attack.

RACIAL ATTACK

Halifax Police are appealing for witnesses after two white motorists were the victims of a racial attack by an Asian street-gang.

The men were driving along Queens Road when their way was blocked by two parked cars belonging to a gang of Asians. After an angry exchange of words, the gang let the whites pass, but minutes later six Asians jumped into one of the cars and gave chase. After forcing the whites' car to stop, six Asian men attacked the passenger and severely damaged the car, before luckily the whites managed to escape.

HALIFAX folk are living in terror of Asian gangs hanging around on street corners. Local whites feel intimidated and threatened by the gangs, and the epidemic of racial attacks against whites has created a 'civil war' atmosphere

• Assaults by Asian gangs have risen to one a day in Bethnal Green and Spitalfields

• White folk terrified to go out in Halifax race war hell

• Twelve-year-old raped by a black 'wild-ing' gang

RALLY '92: Video-recording of the British National Party's Annual Rally in Central London on October 24th 1992. This video is now available and should make an ideal Christmas present for members of your family or friends. With better filming equipment used, the quality of picture is much superior to that in previous BNP rally videos. Price: £12.00 plus 93p p&p.

JOIN THE WELLING CLUB

THE WELLING CLUB is a circle of British National Party supporters who are able and willing to contribute £20 a month to the BNP.

Now that the Party is entering the 'big league' of British politics there is clearly a need for a regular source of income with which to finance necessary expansion.

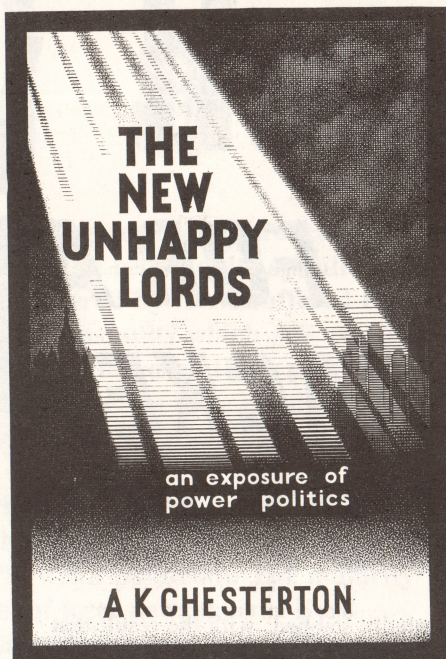

Money for new equipment, administrative staff, transport and election expenses inevitably becomes more and more necessary as the BNP expands.

A number of members and supporters have already joined the Welling Club, and the additional source of income has proved most useful.

In return for their monthly £20 contributions, members of the Club will receive regular special news bulletins, and will be invited free of charge to an annual dinner, which will be addressed by the Party Chairman.

Those who wish to join the Welling Club should write to: The Welling Club, PO Box 117, Welling, Kent DA16 3DW, enclosing their first contribution of £20. Contributions can if desired also be made by bankers order, details of which will be provided on receipt of initial payments.

BOOKS

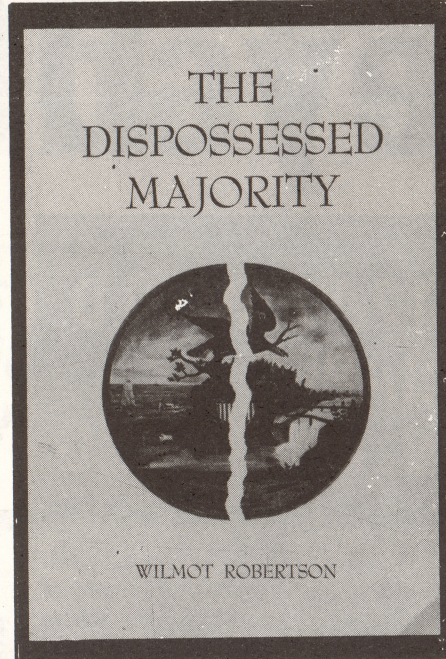

THE NEW UNHAPPY LORDS (by A.K. Chesterton). The author, perhaps the leading nationalist writer of his time, exposed the financial power that seeks to drag mankind into a global police state. Essential reading for all patriots. £6.00 hardback plus 75p p&p.

RACE and REASON

A YANKEE VIEW

By Carleton Putnam

RACE AND REASON (by Carleton Putnam). A plain, unemotional account of the race issue that has been an invaluable contribution to the debate ever since it was first published in 1961. £4.00 plus 50p p&p.

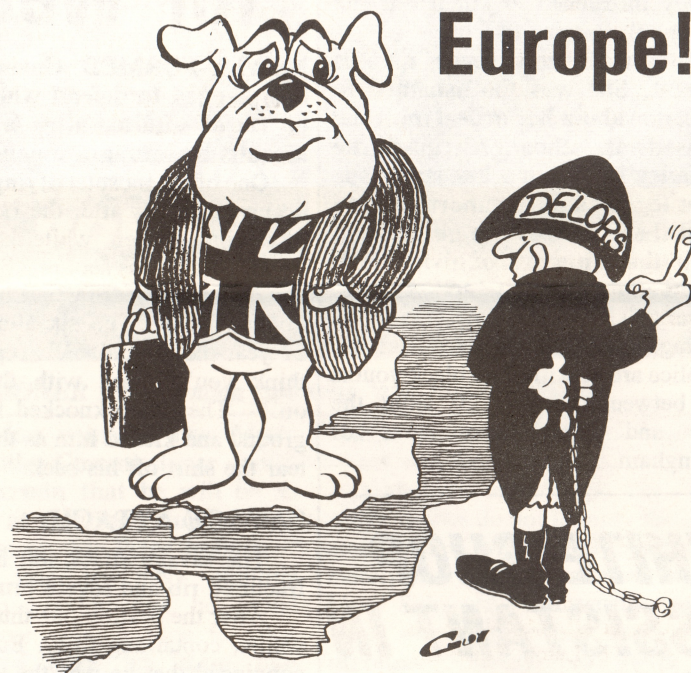

THE DISPOSSESSED MAJORITY (by Wilmot Robertson). This book has attracted worldwide attention, dealing as it does with racial problems in America — and not just the black-white situation. The author is also editor of Instauration magazine. £7.50 plus 93p p&p.

NEW BOOKLET

NO TO MAASTRICHT! NO TO EUROPE! New policy booklet produced jointly by British National Party Devon Branch and the party's National Headquarters. This booklet explains the BNP's opposition not only to the Maastricht Treaty but to British membership of the European Community. The booklet answers the standard arguments put forward by the pro-EC lobby in British politics, and it does what many opponents of the Community fail to do: it proposes a viable alternative to British membership in the form of a renewed trading alliance of White Commonwealth states. The booklet is written in plain, down-to-earth language and is easy to read. It is attractively illustrated on the front and back. Price: 40p plus 18p p&p.

YOUR LETTERS

Write to: The Editor, British Nationalist, PO Box 117, Welling, Kent DA16 3DW.

Sir: I was talking to a friend of mine who is about to be made homeless through the economic policies of the present government.

He went to the local council in Bedford to see whether they could help him. They told him they could not.

When he asked them about all the empty flats in the town, they told him that they were being kept aside for Bosnian 'refugees'.

How can a council do this to their fellow countrymen who need somewhere to live? I think it is disgusting that British people are being treated as second class citizens in their own country.

Sir: Once again the 'politically correct' race traitors are plaguing us with their stupidity.

I am not particularly religious, but surely the suggestion that Christmas carols be re-worded to suit 'non-Christians, (e.g. Moslems, Sikhs, etc) is bordering on the absurd.

Apparently this is the idea of the 'Bradford Interfaith Centre' (the what?) and the advice has been issued to 70 local schools. The city's religious education inspector has even had the audacity to order head-teachers to treat festivals like Christmas 'with sensitivity' to avoid upsetting the 'non-Christian' people.

When will these people learn that decent British folk are not prepared to submit to the whingeing of these immigrants. If they do not wish to be involved in centuries-old British traditions, then they should return to their own country of origin, where they can celebrate what they like, when they like.

If we were in their counties, they would certainly not allow us to keep our religious traditions. In many moslem lands for example, Christianity is punishable by death.

If these people do not like our customs, let them clear off home, and keep Britain for the British.

STOKE UNIT IS BIG NEWS

STAFFORDSHIRE can consider itself lucky to have one of the most active units of the BNP, based in Stoke-on-Trent.

Recently, the unit's stout defence of rights for whites in Stoke has won them front page headlines in local newspapers.

The Fenton area of the city has been plagued by the noise and smell emanating from an alien religious establishment, known as the 'Pandariman Centre'.

BNP CAMPAIGN

The complaints of local whites were ignored by the authorities, so the BNP stepped in with a campaign to have the Centre closed down.

White folk in the area were so grateful for their help, that the BNP has decided to field a candidate in the Fenton ward for OUTSIDE Stafford Castle. Stoke BNP were supported by other East Midlands activists during the Stafford Day of Action.

STOKE'S Evening Sentinel (right) gives a good account of BNP activities, though embroidered with usual lies about 'Swastikas'

THE EVIDENCE

November 1992:

- British National Party 'Stop Immigration' leaflets pushed through letter boxes in Stafford's Oxford Gardens.
- BNP stickers on lamp-posts in Stafford's Martin Street and Eastgate Street. Their theme: 'Love the White Race' and 'Protect yourself from AIDS - Outlaw Homosexuality'.

December 1992:

- BNP leaflets delivered to Stafford's Rowley Street and St Leonard's Way warning against 'Asian Extremism'.

'Start Repatriation', they urged.

- BNP leaflets distributed in Castletown. Their theme: 'Join the BNP if you think immigration should stop.'
- Swastikas and unreadable slogans daubed on trees along a popular path crossing Stafford Common.
- The BNP confirms it is targeting Stafford. A party spokesman told the Newsletter: "We have some members in Stafford and it is one of several towns where we are launching a recruitment campaign."

January 1993:

- 'Join Us' BNP leaflets pushed through letterboxes of town centre shops two weeks ago.

next month's council elections, and will no doubt receive a lot of support from locals.

The campaign is a perfect example of the BNP's new approach to 'community politics' advocated by Elections Officer Eddy Butler. The Stoke unit has stood up for local whites who were being pushed around by the Establishment parties, who are more concerned with the 'rights' of immigrants than with local British folk.

Local immigrant's leader Jeem Agha has arrogantly demanded that the local council refuse the nomination of a BNP candidate in the forthcoming elections — an incitement to a completely illegal act.

DAY OF ACTION

The Stoke unit has also been active in Stafford, where a number of new members have recently been recruited. On Saturday, 20th March, an excellent Day of Action was held in the town. It began with a paper sale in centre of Stafford, where over 50 papers were sold. The 30-strong group then moved on to a nearby housing estate, where hundreds of leaflets were delivered.

National Party targets Pandariman row ward

THE British National Party is to target Stoke-on-Trent's Fenton Green ward in May's county council elections.

Party supporters have already leafleted houses near the controversial Pandariman building centre in Fenton. BNP leaflets distributed to homes in the Oldfield Street area call for the Pandariman Centre to be closed.

They say: "We in the British National Party are disgusted by the way that Stoke Council has allowed this building to be built in the heart of the town."

"The Council's actions show a complete lack of regard for the wishes of the local people."

By Greg Stringer

The centre was given council planning approval after a lengthy protest campaign by residents.

BNP national organiser Richard Hildon said the party, which uses the slogan "Vote Right, Vote White" and pledges to represent ethnic minorities, would choose its candidate in the next few weeks.

But the Oldfield Street residents' association, which campaigned against the centre, rejected the BNP campaign. And a spokesman for the Darbar Unique Centre called for an active committee to be formed to fight the BNP campaign.

Mr. Hildon said: "The council of Oldfield Street and the Darbar Unique Centre are totally united against the attempt made by the BNP to split and destroy community relations in the area."

Right wing leaflet fuels election fury

HOLY WAR ON RACISM

THE Director of Public Prosecutions is to investigate an extreme right wing election attack on Fenton's controversial Faith Centre.

Religious leaders at Pir Pandariman's Oldfield Street Darbar Unique Centre this week passed a British National Party leaflet to the DPP and the Home Office, demanding that those responsible are prosecuted. They say the leaflet, distributed to hundreds of Fenton homes, is an 'open declaration to incite racial hatred'.

The BNP's leaflet says the party intends to put up a candidate in the forthcoming local elections fighting primarily on the Faith Centre issue.

They accuse the city council of shunning the views of local residents who opposed the centre amid fears over increased traffic, parking problems and disruption.

New Oldfield Street Residents' Association, the Race Equality Council and the Faith Centre have united in opposition to the BNP's attempt to exploit the controversy.

Mr Jeem Agha of the Darbar Unique Centre told The Advertiser: "Scores of people have phoned us to express their utter disgust at the way they have been manipulated and exploited by the BNP for their political ends."

"They have been shocked to read that their good name has been abused by the BNP's leaflet which openly incites racial hatred and encourages gross intolerance between the communities."

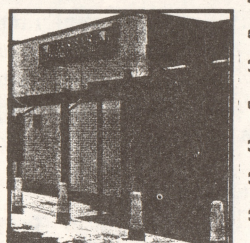

He said the centre was demanding

He was backed by Mr Neale Sheldon, spokesman for the residents' association who said: "We decided we were having nothing to do with the BNP. We are not political and we have tried to disassociate ourselves from racists all along."

North Staffs Race Equality Council director Roy Davies said: "The British National Party and National Front are all vile organisations that are a threat to the fabric of Stoke-on-Trent."

BN and Spearhead boost

SALES of British Nationalist and Spearhead have improved this month thanks to a sales drive by local units. There is still much work to be done if we are to get these nationalist publications into as many homes as possible, so we are again appealing to organisers to increase their monthly order of copies — not only of BN but of Spearhead as well. Unsold copies can always be distributed free at the end of the month. Individual supporters can help by taking out an annual subscription if they have not already done so.

BN and Spearhead can be sold on the streets, in pubs, outside football matches, at BNP meetings, or door-to-door on local housing estates — this last method is an excellent way to meet potential new recruits and voters.

We are also pleased by the number of units who have sent in reports of their activities following last month's request. Please keep them coming in — preferably with photos and any local press cuttings.

BNP in Cornwall

ON SATURDAY 13th February Devon BNP held its first major activity of the year in neighbouring Cornwall.

Papers were sold in St.Austell and Bodmin town centres, and over a thousand leaflets distributed.

The Cornwall Day of Action was particularly welcomed by local jobless whites, as the South West has one of the highest unemployment rates in Britain.

After the activity, BNP supporters travelled to Exeter for a meeting followed by a highly enjoyable social.

Birmingham BNP has first city paper sale

HISTORY was made on 6th March 1993, when for the first time in ten years, a Nationalist party held a paper sale in Birmingham's city centre. The sale was part of a regional Day of Action arranged by Birmingham Organiser Keith Axon in co-operation with Midlands Regional Organiser John Peacock.

The Birmingham unit was supported by activists from Coventry, Walsall, Leeds, Milton Keynes and the East Midlands.

BNP ACTIVISTS

The activity began with around fifty BNP activists assembling in New Street, at the side of the busy Bull Ring shopping centre.

When the BNP arrived, the area was already 'occupied' by the unwashed dregs of the 'Socialist Workers Party' also known to us as 'ANAL'.

The nationalists were hoping to engage these reds in a 'political dialogue', but sadly the SWP/ANAL crew did not stick around long enough. As soon as they spotted the BNP, the revolutionaries did their traditional disappearing act.

The Bull Ring was bustling with people doing their Saturday shopping, and for the first time in a decade, they were able to add a copy of British Nationalist to their shopping list!

PAPERS SOLD OUT

At least forty of them took the opportunity to do so, and the newspapers were sold out within an hour.

Interestingly, at one point our paper-sellers were approached by a West Indian, who said that he agreed that blacks should return to their lands of origin. He said that with the skills he and his fellow blacks had acquired here, they had a substantial contribution to make back home in the West Indies.

GANG OF ALIENS

Sadly, not all immigrants share this view, and as the BNP was leaving the city centre, a small gang of aliens shouted abuse. But unexpectedly for them, they were promptly arrested by the local police for their own protection!

The 'Malcolm X' propaganda film was at the time being shown in Birmingham cinemas, presumably with the object of winding up blacks to become even more aggressive against whites.

The day ended with over 1,000 leaflets delivered at nearby King's Norton. As the BNP storm column walked along Middleton Hall Road with flags flying, a number of car drivers sounded their horns and gave the thumbs up.

This Day of Action has proved that Birmingham is no longer a no-go area for nationalists. The BNP is determined that this will not be the last time that its activists will be on the streets of Birmingham this year.

TYNDALL IN GLASGOW

SCOTLAND welcomed John Tyndall last month, as the BNP Leader travelled to Glasgow to address a packed meeting of British Patriots. Lively applause greeted Mr Tyndall's praise for the level of patriotism in Scotland.

John Peacock speaks in Cannock and Birmingham

MIDLANDS Organiser John Peacock has his work cut out at the moment thanks to the unprecedented growth of the BNP in the region over the past few months. Last month his speaking schedule included meetings at Birmingham and Cannock (right). The Cannock meeting was chaired by ex-NF organiser Charlie Bough.

Halifax BNP goes from strength to strength

On the 20th February this year the Halifax unit of the BNP held its most successful meeting to date. Around fifty supporters heard guest speaker Richard Edmonds (above) congratulate the unit for its rapid growth in recent months, as well as the excellent local publicity achieved by numerous activities in the region. The meeting was chaired by Sid Carthew, and raised £100 towards Party funds — the best ever collection held so far in Halifax. The leader of the Halifax unit has reported a considerable increase in active members following the meeting.

Halifax was the scene of a highly successful 'rights for whites' rally last summer, which put the local unit on the map as far as the media were concerned, leading to excellent news coverage. The rally also boosted local recruitment, as local whites realised that the BNP was the only party which would protect them against the current wave of racial attacks.

What we stand for

- The establishment of a government of national unity that will put an end to nationally divisive party warfare; the return of leadership and statesmanship to British affairs.
- An end to immigration and a start to repatriation.
- British withdrawal from the Common Market
- The disbanding of the multi-racial Commonwealth and its replacement by a new Commonwealth of self-governing white states.
- British ownership and control of British industry and resources.
- Protection of British industry by the selective exclusion of foreign manufactured goods from the British market.
- An end to the financial swindle that causes inflation and slump, and its replacement by a sane and fair financial system that will give the people the purchasing power to buy the goods they produce.
- The subordination of the power of the City to the power of government, and the harnessing of the City to the needs of British industry.
- The regeneration of British farming, with the object of achieving the maximum possible self-sufficiency in food production.
- Rejection of both the poll tax and its substitute, the new 'property tax', and a return to the old rates system, though with fairer rebates allowing for differences in income and in the numbers occupying properties.
- A healthy environment for a healthy people — the protection of our countryside and an end to the architectural disfigurement of our towns and cities.
- Tougher treatment of criminals, including the return of the death penalty.
- A return to traditional methods of education, with stronger discipline in the classroom and the sacking of 'trendy' teachers.
- An alternative defence strategy: withdrawal from NATO, closure of all foreign military and air bases in Britain, the strengthening of Britain's defences and a position of armed neutrality.
- An end to overseas aid and the allocation of the money saved to the financing of repatriation and greater help for the needy at home.
- The crushing of the IRA, the termination of the Anglo-Irish Agreement and firm support for the loyalist majority in Northern Ireland.
- Repeal of the laws permitting homosexuality and abortion (except where the latter is the result of rape or necessary on medical grounds), the wiping out of AIDS and a return to healthy moral values aimed at strengthening the family and community.
